

DELIVERY OF HYDROGEL COMPOSITIONS AS A FINE MIST

ABSTRACT

Dental compositions are provided that can be delivered as a fine mist and that have the capability of undergoing an increase in viscosity in response to an increase in temperature. In a preferred embodiment, the compositions also have the ability to reverse their viscosity in response to a decrease in temperature.